Teresa Kelchner is a Champion, Advocate, and Coach whose indefatigable passion encompasses >30 years of experience working in clinical practice, medical research, patient education, sales, marketing, web-publishing, venture capital, fundraising, communications, teaching, and volunteering in both for-profit and non-profit organizations, serving on boards; a myriad of professional experiences which she applies to growing Christian schools.

Since 2012, she has worked to build capacity with 300+ Christian schools, both large (>1300 students) and small (<30 students). 9 NEW Christian schools have been started. Clients include the Association of Christian Schools International (ACSI) and Seventh-day Adventist schools. Teresa was a member of the NAD's Educational Taskforce to study the state of Adventist education and a guest lecturer at the Andrews University Theological Seminary. Her first book, '52+ Ways To Promote Your School At Church', has become MinistrySpotlight.com which scripts weekly messages ministering to church members on the value of Christian education. Ask about the Foreword in the new book written about Christian education.

Teresa thrives to grow 'anything.' She is a Master Gardener, and she's been known to grow people, ministries, programs, and dollars. Working with churches; developing volunteers and problem solving are her strengths. Teresa was a National Merit Scholar recipient and holds Bachelor's and Master's degrees from the University of Maryland.
